Political Views of Hon. J. S. Clarkson. President of the Republican League.

He Is Not Committed to Either Harrison or Blaine-Tribute to the Former-Laborers and Farmers Must Be Considered.

BOSTON, Mass., May 23.-The Herald this evening prints a long interview with Hon. J. S. Clarkson, president of the Republican League, who is making a brief stop here while en route to Paris to join his family. Mr. Clarkson says: "The failure of young men to participate in politics is a weakness of the Republican party in New England. I believe the New Eng-Democracy has outgeneraled Republican opponents in that respect. They have as leaders the sons of the founders of Republicanism. The Republican party must utilize their young men. The labor question will figure in the next campaign and ought to. Wealth should be more evenly distributed. Something is ready for correction when one man can pile up his millions in a few years, while another has a hard time to make a living. The increase of wealth should be more evenly distributed."

Mr. Clarkson defined reciprocity as optional free trade, and said that the Republican party favored limited reciprocity and the Democratic party universal reciprocity. He thought the McKinley bill would grow in popularity when fully understood and fairly illustrated to every community.
"Do you interpret the Cincinnati convention as favoring Blaine instead of Harri-

"I was not at the convention, so I cannot assume to judge of its sentiments," was the "It is said that you are personally for Blaine as against a renomination of President Harrison?" suggested the reporter.

"I have no personal choice for President," replied Mr. Clarkson with deliberation.

"Time will indicate the man. If the silver lime will indicate the man. If the sliver question is settled the situation will be greatly cleared. The seat of Republican power, the West, will never consent to see the treasures of the country dwarfed to a gold basis. The West will not consent to any candidate or any platform that will not represent the double standard idea, and the greater part will not consent to a platform that will not represent silver as money by the coinage of the American product. With such a position on money, and with the position for a revision of the banking laws so as to make our banking advantages as favorable to agricultural communities, cities and towns, and with the purpose to provide good money and enough of it, the Republican party will hold the West as solid for the party as it was in 1888, while the McKinley bill will carry with it New York and the doubtful States for the protection party.

"The next Republican candidate for President," said Mr. Clarkson, "must be a man broad enough to cover this broad land and able to administer justice on all the differable to administer justice on all the different interests, with a true regard to all national interests. President Harrison has made a faithful executive, in every public sense, and is lacking only in the personal popularity which gives a man the power of elictricity in politics. He has demonstrated his qualities fully, and his pure intellectual ability is not second to any American living to-day, not even to his phenomenal Secretary of State. Whoever is the Republican candidate must be a man who can maintain the solidity of the party in the great agricultural region west of the Mississippi. The candidate must not only be near to the people, but must not be far from the farm. All political parties will go more closely to the farms hereafter than they have in the past fifty years. The farmers are going to assert themselves in public affairs and for the

Mr. Clarkson said he believed that Mr. Cleveland would be the next Democratic candidate. "If his personal views on the silver question do not quite suit the South and West," Mr. Clarkson said, "Mr. Cleveland will make them suit. He feels that the gold people will trust him anyway, and as the Western and Southern Democracy believe in him as a man of destiny, he can successfully hypnotize them on the silver question, and I think he is doing it. Ex-President Cleveland is one of the smartest politicians that his party has ever had, and the Republican party has always underestimated him in this respect. To win in 1892 we must bring up the Republican newspaper circulation to meet that of the Democratic party in its programme to cir-culate tens of millions of arguments directly to the houses of the voters."

Mr. Clarkson goes hence to New York, where he will meet other members of the League management, and will sail for Paris Executive Committee of the League.

CINCINNATI, April 23 .- An executive session of the old and new executive committees of the National Republican League was held late last night. President Clarkson was empowered to appoint a sub-committee of nine members, who shall have | much worked up over Governor Foraker's the same powers as the executive committee, except as to fixing the time and place of the next meeting and taking action on the matter of incorporation. Headquarters of the league were established at No. 202 Fifth avenue, New York. The general executive committee is to meet once in six months at the call of the chairman. The new executive committee is composed as new executive committee is composed as follows: Alabama, R. W. Austin; Connectict, Edward L. Lindsey; Delaware, Philip Walter; Georgia, R. D. the League, received the following telegram from President Clarkson this evening. I am in receipt of your message, and I accept the presidency of the League, and will immedi-ately take up its work. I ask the executive com-mittee, or such members of it as may convenient-ly attend, to meet at headquarters in New York Wednesday noon next. We shall then begin the preliminary labors, with the intention of accom-plishing by the beginning of the long winter months some form of active Republican national organization in every neighborhood of the United States. Your convention has put the Republican party in motion toward victory for itself and the Republic in 1892. I thank my comrades of the League for the trust they have reposed in me, and shall try in common with them to do what I can in the work now before as all.

New York Farmers' Alliance. HORNELLSVILLE, N. Y., April 23 .- The delegates to the State Farmers' Alliance convention got down to business this morning. The constitution, which is partially that of the national Alliance, was read by resolution and adopted. The Ocala platform was adopted. Then the delegates went to formulating their demands. The first one was that mortgages, for the pur-poses of taxation, shall be treated as part of the real estate and taxed where the real estate upon which they are given, lies. The realty is also to be taxed for its full value, less the value of the mortgage. Then the Alliance formulated a demand for government ownership and maintenance of the great waterways of the country, the State and towns to maintain the canals. They also demand a unitorm system of text-books for use in the common schools of the State, the books to be compiled, published and furnished by the State at actual cost.

Messrs. Hicks and Maguire, the Knights of Labor leaders, who came here to address the Alliance yesterday on the beauties of affiliating with the Knights, wanted to establish a friendly, if not a fraternal combination with the Alliance, but the delegates did not indorse the proposition. A telegram of fraternal greeting from three hundred delegates in convention at Waco,

Tex., was read. In the afternoon officers were elected and the St. Louis platform was adopted as a whole. There was not a dissenting voice, and those who had laid their plans for the State officer were not given a show. The Knights of Labor and Greenback elements received a most generous set-back and will not be again heard from in Alliance matters soon. The committee on resolumovement, and maintained that the work of the Alliance could be carried on to more advantage by non-partisan voting. The resolutions were carried in an enthusiastic manner, and met the universal approval of delegates.

The Alliance adjourned to meet again on

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 23. - Early in the Democratic caucus to-night a profound sensation was produced by the reading of a note by Mr. Mays, of Jefferson county, in which Representative Newlan, of Suwanee county, over his own signature, offered John L. Bryant, of Jefferson county, $100 cash if he would influence one of the Jefferson county Representatives to desert Call and to continue to oppose him. Great confusion followed. Newlan denied having any knowledge of the note whatever, and opinion was about equally divided as to an acceptance of his denial. Finally the Call men secured the appointment of a committee of five to investigate the matter and report to-morrow night. Newlan's friends claim that he is the victim of a conspiracy. Despite the confusion and speech making the caucus managed, about mid-night, to take three ballots. Call had 54, 55 and 54 votes, with Speer 39, 40, 39. The others were scattered. There were several absentees, with no proxies. The caucus broke up amid much confusion and excitement, at 12:20 A. M.

Depew Says It Will Be Harrison. KANSAS CITY, April 23.—Chauncey M. Depew was interviewed here to-night. In summing up his view of the political situation he predicted that President Harrison would be renominated and re-elected. Regarding the Western congress recently held in this city Mr. Depew said there could be no West against the East in politics. Such a proposition, he said, was peanut politics, originating from picayune statesmanship. Acres did not govern the country, but Yale's Crank Professors.

The vagaries of political economy which Yale College professors have enunciated for years are well known, but have been regarded as quite harmless, because the theories instilled by Professor Perry on youthful minds are almost invariably expunged by the practical experience of the maturing man in business. But it is rather odd that Yale should present a new spec tacle of a crank teacher in the person of C.
A. L. Totten, who is military professor of that institution, and has made a mathematical calculation on which he predicts that the millennium will begin in 1899 by Christ's second coming on earth. Yale needs a regenerating millennium even more than the

Two Interesting Damage Suits for Slander at Wabash, One Being for $10,000,

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WABASH, April 23 .- In the Wabash Circuit Court, to-day, Miss Ella Ray, a handsome young woman, of this city, began suit for $10,000 damages for slander against Edward Kisner, a wealthy bachelor farmer, of this county. Several years ago Kisner was the accepted suitor of Miss Ray, and the date for the wedding was fixed, but Kisner declined to lead her to the altar at the appointed time. She sued him for damages for breach of promise, and two months ago secured a verdict against him for $4,000. During and before the trial Miss Ray alleges that he repeatedly called her a woman of bad character, and the present action is the outcome of his statements.

Mrs. Nettie Allison, of this city, this afternoon filed a slander suit for $1,000 departs a resign to a paighbor Mrs. damages againet a neighbor, Mrs. Florence Ramsey. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TIPTON, April 23 .- The ninth annual commencement exercises of the Tipton Highschool was held in the Kleyla Theater, this evening. There were ten graduates, whose subjects were: "Woman's Power," Miss Bonnie Beaucamp: "Social Purity." Miss Lulu Collins; "As You Will," Miss Dora Hysman; "False Ambition," Miss Frances Jones; "The People Make the Country." Miss Effie Kemberlin: "No Battle, No Victory." Effie Martindale: "Who is the True Knight?" Mr. Max Mehlig; "Trifles," Miss Rosa Mitchell; "Is it Worth While?" Miss May Shellenbarger; "The Novel as an Educator," Miss Etta Tincher. At the close of the exercises the class of 1892, through Prof. A. E. Remy, in a neat address, presented the graduates a scroll gold-plate pin with the letters inscribed "T. H. S. from 1892 to 1891," after which Professor Remy gave each their diploma. Visiting classes from adjoining counties were present. This was the largest class that ever graduated here.

Annual Meeting of Methodist Bishops.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENCASTLE, April 23 .- The forthcoming meeting, in this city, of the bishops of the M. E. Church will develop their plans for the new year relative to a division of the work devolving upon them. The session will begin May 7, and continue one week. Their deliberations are private, but two or three public meetings are usually held. There are sixteen bishops in all, fourteen of whom are expected to attend the meeting in this city. The remaining two, Bishops Walden and Goodsell, are absent in foreign lands. The pulpits of the several Protestant churches of Greencastle, together with Meharry Hall, will be occupied by the distinguished visitors on Sunday, May 10. The meetings will doubtless bring an unusually large number of worshipers out on that day.

ILLINOIS.

Three Candidates Selected by the Republicans of the Fourth Judicial Circuit. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

DANVILLE, April 23 .- Full delegations were present to-day from Champaign, Clark, Coles, Edgar, Macon, Piatt, Moultrie. Douglas and Vermillion counties at the Republican convention for the Fourth judicial circuit. After Edwin Winter called the convention to order, the following officers were elected without opposition: Chairman, T. J. Golden, of Marshall; secretaries, C. M. Mansfield, of Piatt county, and John Upendall, of Mouitrie county. The following candidates were placed in nomination without speeches: F. M. Wright, of Urbana; Jos. Dyas, of Paris; Henry Neal, of Charleston; E. P. Vail, of Decatur, and F. W. Bookwalter, of Danville. It was anticipated that it would be a long fight. No candidate had enough votes pledged to guarantee his nomination. Vermillion county came last on the roll-call. The other counties being anxious for her support, gave a large portion of their votes to Bookwalter. When Vermillion was reached it was seen that her sixteen votes would elect any three of the five candidates. Champaign had cast her thirteen votes solid for Bookwalter, so it was decided to return the favor by giving Wright the full vote of Vermillion. The delegation being evenly divided between Neal and Vail, it cast eight votes for each of them, which nominated Wright, Vail and Bookwalter, the votes standing: Wright, 60; Vail, 50; Bookwalter, 54; Neal, 37; Dyas, 27.

Two of the present judges—C. B. Smith, of Champaign, and Joseph F. Hughes, of Mattoon, both Republicans—declined to enter the convention, and have announced themselves as independent candidates. The Democrate will hold their convention at Decatur next week. The Republicans have a safe, though small, majority in the circuit, and will probably elect all three of the candidates. The following judicial committee was selected: Champaign, Pritchard; Clark, W. L. Athon; Coles, H. R. Williams, Dongles, H. M. Moore; Edgar B. Williams; Douglas, H. M. Moore; Edgar, J. W. Howell; Macon, J. M. Clokey; Moul-trie, A. K. Campbell; Piatt, E. A. Tallman; Vermillion, Edwin Winter.

Proposed Law Against Boycotting. SPRINGFIELD, April 23.—The special legislative committee which has been investigating the charges against the Chicago Live Stock Exchange has prepared their report, in which it finds that organization guilty of boycotting the members of the American Live Stock Commission Company. It provides heavy penalties for boycotting, but does not attempt to fix any maximum rate of charges.

Charged with Embezzlement. WASHINGTON, April 23 .- A requisition was received here to-day from Governor Fifer, of Illinois, for the return of Andrew Behmer, charged with embezzlement, and a warrant was issued, on which he was arrested this morning by Mr. Joyce, of the marshal's office. The specific charge is that on Dec. 20 last, in Christian county, Illinois, he converted to his own use $1,000 belonging to A. Caselette & Co., the proceeds from the sale of corn. Mr. Behmer is a well-known commission man of this city, and he protests his innocence.
